

Community Club's Bazaar a Big Success

ELM HALL AND Y. M. C. A. OVER-TAXED WITH THE BIG CROWD.
COMPLETE DETAILS IN NEXT ISSUE.

Narberth was given an extraordinary treat Friday and Saturday of last week, when the Woman's Community Club gave a two-day Bazaar in Elm Hall and the Y. M. C. A., the latter being used for supper only.

The Bazaar, under the management of Mrs. W. J. Mulholland, was unique in its many booths and other interesting, up-to-the-minute features. Much credit is given to Mrs. Mulholland and her numerous assistants who have been working for many weeks past to give the Narberth folks something out of the ordinary, and as everyone plainly saw, such was the case.

On both evenings the Refreshments Committee were compelled to close the doors of the Y. M. C. A. or else supper would have continued until the wee sma' hours of the morning. It seemed that Elm Hall held everybody in Narberth, and from all appearances every one was ready at all times to spend freely and to take advantage of the many offerings at the various booths.

It is hoped that such an affair will be given later on by other organizations, and we understand from a financial standpoint it was with one exception the most successful affair held in Narberth.

Notes of the Bazaar.

Mr. C. P. Cook, Mr. Althouse, and Mr. J. E. Cranston, of Gladwynn, Cynwyd, each donated a ton of coal, which were won by Mr. George B. Mann, 6934 Paschall avenue, West Philadelphia; Mr. Robert Mueller, and Mr. A. L. Jacoby, of Narberth.

Miss Mary Gara, 404 South Narberth avenue, and Mrs. Wm. H. Cohecof, 210 Essex avenue, each took home an electric doll.

Mr. Robert Dothard held the lucky number for the theatre box, and Mr. James Donnelly, of Bryn Mawr, a Landers, Frary & Clarke electric iron.

Mrs. J. Chapette became the delighted owner of the Polychrome lamp donated by Mr. McDonald, of Wayne avenue.

Mr. Neal Anderson, of Philadelphia, very willingly carried home the Colonial rug, which was the artistic work of one of our aides, Miss Louise England, Elmwood avenue.

Next week a full and complete list of the donations will be published.

Mrs. Horace E. Moore still has a good selection of children's dresses, 3 and 4 years size, also a number of infant clothes at her residence, 210 Essex avenue.

WOMEN'S COMMUNITY CLUB

The regular meeting of the Club will be held on Tuesday afternoon, May 4th, at 3 P. M., in the hall of the Narberth Fire House, due to the fact that the Y. M. C. A. Building is closed.

The program will consist of readings by Mrs. G. M. Davis and solos by Mrs. Joseph Barelay. The Club Chorus will also render some selections.

It is expected that a lecture on the Mexican situation will be given.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

(By a member of the Auxiliary.)

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church will hold a Birthday Party at the church on the afternoon of May 5th, from 2:30 to 5:30.

This celebrates the 75th birthday of one of our charter members, "Grandma" Caldwell, whom we all so dearly love, and who has served so faithfully in the church.

Gifts for the Presbyterian Orphanage will be brought in by members of the Auxiliary.

All new members of the church and congregation are especially invited to meet with us on this date.

Come and see "Grandma" eat her birthday cake.

Are You Going to the Spring Tennis Dance?

TO BE HELD IN ELM HALL, FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 7—THAT'S NEXT FRIDAY EVENING.

TICKETS MAY BE OBTAINED FROM MEMBERS OF THE ASSOCIATION.

"By jingo, I'm glad you reminded me!" exclaimed a certain resident of Narberth, who is also a member of the Narberth Tennis Association, the other day, when he was reminded to keep Friday evening, May 7, open.

For on that evening the Tennis Association will give its spring dance in Elm Hall.

The dance is for the members of the Association and their wives, and their friends. All members have been supplied with tickets, and if you count among your friends any members of the Tennis Association and enjoy dancing, speak to those members and they will supply you with tickets or get them for you.

There will be a Jazz Orchestra, all tuned up and ready to lead the dancing as long as anyone wants to dance, or in other words, until Bill Kirkpatrick says he has had enough dancing for one evening!

At all the entertainments given by the Tennis Association during the past season there has been some dancing at the end of the regular programs, and while the entertainments have all been enjoyed, almost everybody has said that they didn't have a long enough time to dance. That's why the Entertainment Committee has arranged this special spring dance. There will be no entertainment on the evening of May 7, although there will be an interesting feature or two introduced, which ought to prove very enjoyable.

The Entertainment Committee is anxious for every member of the Association to attend, and bring along as many of his friends as he cares to invite.

Remember, the date is Friday evening, May 7, and the place is Elm Hall.

FOUND—Gold cuff link, initials H. C. Call at Post Office.

Mr. Carroll Downes, of the Philadelphia National Bank, has been attending the session of the United States Chamber of Commerce at Atlantic City this week.

The attention of all citizens is called to the Forest Fire Proclamation by William C. Spraul, Governor of Pennsylvania. A copy of the proclamation is posted in the lobby of the Narberth Post Office.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wetherill, of Washington, D. C., were in Narberth over the week end visiting Mrs. Wetherill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Nash, of Dudley avenue.

Those who heard Miss Cordelia Siegfried, the charming contralto who sang at the Community Club Bazaar, are hoping for and opportunity to hear her again. Miss Alice Condes' dainty dancing was also a delight. We hope Narberth may be in the line of her tour, which we understand she will make in the near future.

The Bryn Mawr Revels and Plays will be given again this year on the college campus, May 7 and 8. It will be the fifth May Day in the history of the college and the first since 1914. Mrs. Otis Skinner, of Bryn Mawr, will be director of the fete and Mr. Samuel Arthur King, lecturer in English diction at Bryn Mawr, the coach.

Narberth Clean-up Week

MAY 3 TO MAY 7—SEE ASH COLLECTION ROUTES BELOW.

The Narberth Civic Association has for the past four years promoted a spring clean-up of house and garden rubbish, working with our Borough Highway Department.

The additional expense for extra teams is borne by the Civic Association treasury and the expenditure has proven well worth while.

From May 3 to May 7 the Highway Department will remove rubbish along the route of their regular ash collection, but cannot handle rubbish after these dates.

Please place all material as near sidewalks as possible in order to save time for collectors.

So please have your cans or boxes ready and remember that while the drivers are pretty husky they cannot be expected to handle barrels of rock or other containers which are sometimes placed near the sidewalk and then filled with heavy material.

NOTICE.

The regular ash collection will be omitted for the week April 26th to May 1st.

There will be two collections during May: May 3d to 7th, collection of ashes and clean-up, and May 17th to 21st, collection of ashes.

During June, July, August and September, there will be one collection each month, starting on the first Monday, which will be devoted to work on the North Side, and Tuesday to South Side. This schedule will be followed closely unless interfered with by unforeseen borough work.

Street Commissioner.

Ladies' Auxiliary of American Legion Holds Meeting

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Harold D. Speakman Post, 356, of the American Legion held a meeting on Tuesday evening in Elm Hall. There were a number of topics brought up for discussion, prominent among which were the following:

On the evening of May 21st, the Ladies' Auxiliary will entertain the Harold D. Speakman Post in Elm Hall, and it is to be hoped that all the members of both the Post and the Auxiliary will be there.

The Auxiliary is planning a theatre benefit for the evenings of May 24th and 25th at the Chestnut Street Opera House, to see Miss Charlotte Greenwood in "Linger Longer Letty," a musical comedy which has been well criticised. Tickets may be secured from any member of the Auxiliary.

GET READY FOR THE FLOWER SHOW.

In spite of the weather during the past week, we are on the threshold of spring, and our local gardeners and flower lovers are already preparing for the Flower Show to be held on Saturday afternoon and evening, June 5, in Elm Hall.

The show will be officially known as the Rose and Peony Show, because those are the two flowers dominating exhibits at this season of the year. But as usual there will be classes for many other flowers, a complete list of which will be announced in Our Town, probably next week.

This annual spring flower show, which was originated some years ago by Mr. and Mrs. Stites, has been conducted for several years past by the Civic Association, and has proved to be one of the most popular events of the year.

We cannot urge our citizens too much, we believe, to enter the show and exhibit their choicest blooms. The Narberth Flower Show is not a professional affair in any sense of the word. The flowers are all grown in home gardens by home folks, and we know of no event on the Narberth calendar that affords more people more genuine pleasure.

To relieve the acute shortage of farm laborers in this State, the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry, through its Bureau of Employment, has set aside Saturday of each week as Farm Labor Day at each of its offices. It has been learned that Saturday is a convenient day for farmers to meet workers at the State Labor Bureau for the purpose of arranging for their hire for the season.

In the Philadelphia District, Farm Labor Day is observed at the headquarters of the State Employment Office, 1519-1521 Arch street, Philadelphia, where every effort is made by the Department's officials to procure competent farm workers to meet the urgent need of Pennsylvania's farmers.

Hundreds of high school boys will be placed on farms throughout the State during the summer vacation. In a further effort to supply farm laborers, the Bureau of Employment officials expect to have the boys go into the country, during June, July and August, where they can have healthful employment, wholesome food, good wages and instructive experience.

BIRTHS AND DEATHS.

Births in Montgomery county during 1919 were much greater than deaths, according to a compilation of the returns of local registrars just completed by Deputy Controller William C. Irwin.

The total deaths were 2,963, and the births, 4,114.

Bell Telephone Co. Asks For Increase in Rate Schedule

FILED APPLICATION RECENTLY AT HARRISBURG FOR NEW CHARGES.

EFFECTIVE MAY FIRST.

The new Bell Telephone rates, which are to go into effect on May 1st, were filed with the Public Service Commission at Harrisburg, March 19, 1920, by The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania. New rates have been worked out for every exchange in the State. Wayne, Bryn Mawr, Ardmore, Narberth, Merion and Cynwyd will be asked to pay as follows after May 1st. The old rates are given for comparison:

Monthly Business Base Rates.
	New.	Old.
Individual	$5.00	$4.00
Two-Party	4.50	3.00
Four-Party	4.00

Monthly Residence Base Rates.
	New.	Old.
Individual	$3.25	$3.00
Two-Party	2.75	2.50
Four-Party	2.25	2.00

New toll and long distance rates are also introduced. As a matter of fact, the schedules in use prior to December 1, 1919, are reintroduced with but slight modifications. This provides uniformity within Pennsylvania and makes the State conform with the system in use for interstate calls. Night rates will again be in effect.

The company's letter to the Commission explaining the need for greater revenues is reproduced:

Mr. John G. Hopwood, Acting Sec'y,
The Public Service Commission
of Pennsylvania,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir:

There is transmitted herewith, for filing with your Honorable Commission according to law, new and revised schedules of toll and exchange rates of this company.

During the year 1916 the average operating expense per telephone was $2.53 a month, whereas, owing to the rapid rise in the costs of material and labor, the monthly average for December, 1919, and January, 1920, was $3.45,—an increase of $0.92, which when applied to the average number of telephones in service in December, 1919, and January, 1920, to wit, 618,000, gives approximately $568,000 a month. This represents the average excess of operating expenses in December, 1919, and January, 1920, over the level of 1916, in spite of the introduction by the management of every known and feasible method of economy. When expressed in terms of income, this means that, even assuming no further rise in the costs of material and labor, the estimated gross revenues for 1920 from the existing rates would be approximately $27,500,000, with operating expenses of approximately $27,200,000, leaving net revenues for the year of only $300,000 for interest and dividends on an investment of more than $100,000,000.

The new schedules were prepared to meet these present operating facts and are estimated to produce additional revenues to meet the increase in operating expenses per annum attributable solely to the excess of prevailing costs of material and labor over the level of the year 1916, and hence to restore that relationship between the revenues and expenses of this company which your Commission established when it prescribed the present schedules of rates in its order of April 4, 1917, after a painstaking and exhaustive investigation running over a period of more than three years.

It should be obvious that the result of operations under present rates constitutes a serious menace to our credit, which will be destroyed entirely if adequate relief be not promptly afforded.

The estimated demand for extensions and additions in 1920 will require $10,000,000 of new money. Even if no new patrons were added and it were attempted to restrict the service to the number who now have it, there would still be required in 1920, $7,000,000 of new money to cover replacements at the present level of prices and the constant flux in the telephone business owing to disconnections, removals and changes of location of telephones, necessitating capital additions to both the exchange and toll plants.

Failure to secure new money each year would not only prevent the giving of any service to additional patrons, but would also cause a progressive deterioration in the quality and diminution in the quantity of service rendered to existing patrons—deterioration in quality because of lack of money to introduce economies and improvements as the telephone art advances, and diminution in quantity because of the inevitable net annual loss of patrons in spite of every effort to maintain a constant number. For example, there will be 105,000 disconnections during the current year, of which 70,000 will disappear and 35,000 will move their location, either within the same community or to another in this Commonwealth. To give service to 70,000 new patrons to replace those who disappear will require new money for new and additional plant, as will also the providing of new plant to reconnect into the system the 35,000 who change their location. This phase of the telephone business is here stressed, not so much because of the financial effect upon the company, as to indicate the paramount interest of the public in the quality and scope of their service. Any change of the present policy of the company in this respect would change the attitude of the public from that of general acquiescence to that of open and active protestation.

To attract new capital unimpaired credit is essential.

As the rate of return of public service companies is limited by regulation, such companies can appeal for money only to the relatively small classes of conservative investors, such as savings, educational and charitable institutions, and individuals whose income is derived wholly or chiefly from invested capital. To such conservative classes security of principal and reasonable assurance of regularity of dividends are of vital consequence. Such security of principal and regularity of dividends this company cannot now offer from the revenues derived from its existing rates.

Increasing the rates for telephone service, and thus adding to the burdens now being borne by the public by reason of the high costs of the necessities of life, affords neither pleasure nor gratification to the officers of this company. They are constrained to take this course by their plain duty to their patrons, their employees, and the holders of their securities and stock.

Yours very truly,
(sd.) L. H. Kinnard, President,
The Bell Telephone Co. of Penna.

HIGH COST OF MONEY

The enormous demand by the Railroads, Public Utilities and Industrials for money for equipment and permanent improvements has caused the price of money to advance. Because of this, investments can be made now to return 7% or more in securities which a few months ago would have looked cheap as a 5% investment. We will be glad to make suggestions for the investment of surplus funds in small or large amounts.

The Public and the Post-Office

Every citizen owes it to himself to make such study of our national post-office as will enable him to understand the facilities and advantages it affords, as well as the conditions under which it performs its work. This knowledge will enable any citizen to secure greater benefit from the postoffice and to cultivate better postal service for all.

The postoffice does not challenge, but invites criticism, and one way in which the public can co-operate is by offering suggestions and calling attention to imperfections in the service, which are not always apparent to the man inside.

There are many ways in which the public can assist the postoffice in ensuring efficient handling and prompt delivery of the mail. In the first place, all mail should be addressed legibly, and the address should be complete. The delivery of mail is often delayed, and sometimes made impossible, by an omission of an important part of the address, such as the street number, or the room number when addressed to an office building.

A great deal of time is lost in endeavoring to supply correct addresses and supplying omissions. Delays are occasioned in deciphering peculiar chirographic characters and eccentric spelling, whose interpretation would baffle the skill of an expert reader of cuneiform inscriptions.

The "guess" (for the conclusion reached is often a guess) may be wrong and the letter is sent to some address which, like "a shaft of random sent, finds mark the archer little meant."

Letters are often addressed to shipping points which are not postoffices, and, of course, such letters do not reach their destination with that promptness the writers expect and which should characterize the work of the postoffice.

Some country merchants and planters carry on their letterheads their shipping point, which is not always a post-office, and their correspondents are then often led into error.

Errors in abbreviating the name of the State is another fruitful cause of delay. Addressing mail to a discontinued postoffice necessarily will delay delivery, and many letters addressed "city," omitting the name of the city, has caused them to visit other cities than the one to which they were destined.

Then, again, letters intended for delivery at a free delivery office have been slow in reaching their destination because of the absence of specific street address, or where the address given is the intersection of two streets.

For instance, the delivery of a letter addressed to the "corner of Poydras and Rampart streets, New Orleans," will probably be delayed because of the fact that there are four such corners, and each is in the district of a separate carrier.

Through a fortuitous happening the letter may go directly into the hands of the right carrier, but the chances are that it will be successively handled by the other three carriers before it finally reaches the fourth or right one.

All envelopes should bear in the upper left hand corner the name and address of the sender of the letter, so that if it should fail to reach the addressee it may be promptly returned to the sender, which the Government agrees to do without additional cost.

Letters addressed to one person are sometimes erroneously placed in the postoffice box belonging to another, and the delay in the delivery to the proper person will depend upon the promptness with which the letter is returned to the postoffice or forwarded to the addressee by the person receiving it in error.

How much should I give to make this a better world?

A CERTAIN man in New York filled out his income tax report.

It showed an income so large that his tax was 53%. And his total gifts to church and charity for the year were $148.

Think of it—thousands spent for luxuries and pleasure for himself; and $148 to leave the world a little better than he found it!

Most of us do better than that; but not so very much better.

Our average daily gift for all church causes is

- less than we spend for daily papers
- less than a local telephone call
- less than a third of the day's car fare
- less than 3 cents a day

No wonder that 80% of the ministers of America are paid less than $20 a week. No wonder that the church hospitals turn away thousands of sick people a year. No wonder that China has only one doctor for every 400,000 people. No wonder that every church board and charity society is forever meeting deficits, forever passing the hat.

It isn't because we are selfish; it isn't because we don't want to help. It's just because no one has ever put up a great big program to us, and asked us to think of the work of the church in a systematic businesslike way.

The Interchurch World Movement represents the united program of thirty denominations. They have surveyed their whole task, no business could have done it better.

They have budgeted their needs; no business could have a more scientific budget. They have united to prevent the possibility of waste and duplication. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

And they come to the men or women who love America—to you—this week asking you to use them as the channel through which a certain definite part of your income can be applied to make this a better world.

Only you can determine what part of your income that should be.

It's a good time right now to answer that question. We're passing through the world just once; how much better will the world be because you passed through?

instead of having it deposited through the day, produces congestion in the postoffice and very frequently results in causing the mail to miss early des-

The foregoing causes of delay in despatch and delivery of mails can only be corrected and removed by the public, and while, of course, it is not expected that perfection can be reached, the results which would follow a normally close response by the public for co-op-ready stated, amply repay the time and labor which such co-operation might cost.

ABOUT DAHLIAS.

which to get your dahlia roots in time much earlier or later than May 15.

HOW TO GET THE 1920 LICENSE FOR YOUR DOG.

Residents of Narberth who own dogs and who have not renewed their licenses for 1920 should write to Irvin Bard-man, County Treasurer, Norristown. The method of procedure is as follows: Ask Mr. Bardman to send you an application for a 1920 dog license and enclose either a two-cent stamp or a stamped and addressed envelope. The County Treasurer will then mail you the application form, and upon receipt of this form you should fill it out and mail it back to the County Treasurer, enclosing the necessary fee. A postage stamp or self-addressed and stamped envelope should also be enclosed with the application. In two or three days the County Treasurer will mail you the new 1920 license.

FIRST SHALL BE LAST.

suddenly fetched up in a drug store window.

"Is this the first time you ever drove a car?" asked a police officer.
"No, sir," was the grim reply; "this is the last."—Journal of the American

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellowtownsman, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.

As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 2 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.
